After the benediction dinner was announced and the table fairly groaned under the heavy weight. This writer has had the pleasure of attending several dinner gatherings where dinner was spread but never has he beheld such a spread as he did last Sunday. After the crowd had ate until all were satisfied, there was enough left to feed as many more.

Ocala was represented by Misses Maud and Beattie Moser, Miss Emma Barber, Miss Sigman, Mrs. W. D. Graham, V. P. Potts and Mr. Jas. Knoblock.

The following places was well represented, Kendrick, Martin, Fairfield, Irvine, Flemington, Williston, Mont Brook, Morriston, Blitchton, Romeo, Standard, Early Bird, Rock Springs, LeRoy, York, Cotton Plant, Martel and Hernando.

S. J. McCully conducted the exercises in his usual modest way, while Mrs. L. D. Beck performed at the organ. May Fellowship Sunday school continue to prosper and celebrate many other such occasions.

The Lawyer and the Witness.

This article was not written by an Ocala newspaper but it could have been as time and time again the same colloquy has been heard in the Ocala court house between lawyers and witnesses:

"You say you know Mr. Smith?"

asks the lawyer.

"Yes, sir."

"You swear you know him?"

"Yes, sir."

"You mean that you are acquainted with Mr. Smith?"

"Yes, sir."

"You don't know him; you are merely acquainted with him. Remember that you are on your oath, sir. Now be careful. You don't mean to tell the court that you know all about Mr. Smith and everything he ever did?"

"I suppose."

"Never mind what you suppose; please answer my question. Do you or do you not know everything that Mr. Smith did?"

"No."

"That'll do, sir. No you do not. Very good. So you are not acquainted with all his acts?"

"Of course."

"Stop there. Are you or are you not?"

"No."

"That is to say, you are not so well acquainted with him as you thought you were?"

"Possibly not."

"Just so. Now we begin to understand each other. If you don't know anything about Mr. Smith's acts when you are not with him, you can't swear that you know him, can you?"

"If you put it that way."

"Come sir, don't seek to evade my question. I will put it to you again. When you say you know Mr. Smith you don't mean to say you know everything he does?"

"No sir; of course not."

"Just so; of course not. Then you were not quite correct, were you, when you said you knew Mr. Smith?"

"No, sir."

"In point of fact, you don't know Mr. Smith at all?"

"No, sir."

"Ah, I thought so. That'll do. You can stand aside."—Galveston News.
